

Case Study - Machinery

CONTEXO automation

Contexo

Contexo is an international machine builder that designs and produces technical solutions for global brands and companies. It started from 1982, specializes in building high-performance assembly machines for mass production. Up to 65 production stages can be integrated in one system, for example: assembly, imprinting, joining, gluing, welding and lasering.

The system:
DN 40-100mm

Selection Criteria:

Flexibility

Competitive Price

Higher Quality

Advancing Compressed Air & Gas Systems

